KCST Spokesman on Launching Time of Satellite

Pyongyang, December 8 (KCNA) -- The spokesman for the Korean Committee of Space Technology Saturday gave the following answer to the question raised by KCNA as regards the launch of the second version of Kwangmyongsong-3 satellite:

As announced, we are making preparations for the launch of the second version of Kwangmyongsong-3 satellite, a scientific and technological satellite, at the final stage.

Our scientists and technicians, however, are now seriously examining the issue of readjusting the launching time of the satellite for some reasons.
